this bracing study redefines romanticism in terms of its philosophical habits of self consciousness according to paul hamilton metaromanticism or the ways in which writers of the romantic period generalized their own practices was fundamentally characteristic of the romantic project itself through a close look at the aesthetics of friedrich schiller and jean jacques rousseau and key works by samuel taylor coleridge percy and mary shelley john keats sir walter scott jane austen and many others hamilton shows how the romantic movement s struggle with its own tenets was not an effort to seek an alternative way of thought but instead a way of becoming what it already was and yet as he reveals the romanticists were still not content with their own self consciousness pushed to the limit such contemplation either manifested itself as self disgust or found aesthetic ideas regenerated in discourses outside of aesthetics altogether
