symptom of a traumatic rupture at the heart of all things drawing on decades of research in postmodern philosophy and experience as a psychotherapist James H. Olthuis wades into this discussion to propose a radical ontology of love without metaphysics in dialogue with philosophers like John D. Caputo, Slavoj Žižek, Lucie Irigaray and others. Olthuis explores issues from divine sovereignty and the problem of evil to trauma and social ethics. Experience in therapeutic work informs these investigations, rooting them in journeys with individuals on the path to healing. Olthuis makes the bold claim that while trauma, pain and suffering are significant parts of our human lives, nevertheless love is with us to the very end. Creation is a gift that comes with a call to make something of it ourselves, a risky task we must take on with the promise that love will win. We are all dancing in the wild spaces of love: ex amore cum amore ad amorem.

It also examines the internal tensions and dynamics between authors, translators, and readers, and the value system of translation criticism. The book also illustrates the role of culture in translation, discussing the cultural information embedded in language, the relationship between culture and meaning, the cultural interpretation of meaning and texts, the intersection of translation and cultural psychology, and the principles and methods of translation studies from a cultural perspective.
